An easy to use, safe manual handling tool - the Millie-Mova

The Millie-Mova is a unique, easy to use, and safe manual handling system designed to help a carer move an elderly or disabled person safely while seated in a chair. The Millie-Mova attaches to the base of any four-legged chair, and has a spring mechanism that allows the carer to engage the wheels to glide a chair from one place to another with an occupant in place, without risking possible injuries to their back, shoulder, knees, or hips while moving the person.

Unlike other solutions to the problem of moving elderly or disabled people whilst safely seated, a chair fitted with the Millie-Mova retains high stability, and incorporates an automatic brake, when unoccupied. This means that a person unsteady on their feet can lean on the chair without it sliding away from them, which otherwise could lead to a fall.
